

Art in Your Eye — Art Program Series - 2009

Join us for these FREE art-related programs offered by Batavia Public Library during the Art In Your Eye - Batavia School of Art.

An Uncommon Journey: African American Art of the Twentieth Century

Monday, July 20, 7 pm

Art historian Jeff Mishur presents a lecture on a selection of African American artists, including Henry Ossawa Tanner, Aaron Douglass, Walter Ellison, Archibald Motley, Jr., Jacob Lawrence, Faith Ringgold, and others. Several styles practiced by African American artists will be discussed within the context of major European and American art movements, including the Harlem Renaissance, a cultural movement occurring in the U.S. between the wars.

“Splash and Flash” Watercolor

Tuesday, July 28, 7 pm

Artist Suzanne Hetzel will demonstrate how to loosen up with watercolor and experiment with the media to achieve dynamic results. She will show the techniques available for florals, landscapes, and still lifes, as well as how to put yourself into your work to get the most individual results.

The Modern Wing at the Art Institute of Chicago

Monday, Aug. 3, 7 pm

The Art Institute of Chicago's recently opened Modern Wing, designed by Renzo Piano, serves as a new exhibition space for the museum's world-renowned collection of modern and contemporary art. This lecture will present the Modern Wing's architecture in the context of Renzo Piano's career. It will also consider the new structure as part of the museum's larger complex of buildings. There will also be a brief overview of the art work on view in the new spaces. Presenter Paula Wisotzki is Adjunct Lecturer, Museum Education, Art Institute of Chicago and Associate Professor of Art History at Loyola University Chicago.

Batavia Public Library, 10 S. Batavia Avenue, Batavia, IL 60510

It is helpful if you make a reservation for each program by calling the Library at: 630-879-4777

Websites: artinyoureye.com & www.BataviaPublicLibrary.org

Join us for -- Art In Your Eye Fine Art Show & Festival August 8 & 9 -- Batavia Riverwalk